

Reuse, Repair & Recycling

CRNI MEMBERSHIP

CRNI is the voice for the sector, helping to grow social reuse, repair and recycling through knowledge sharing, connecting and training for members, as well as policy, innovation and research.

Our activities include:

MEMBER SUPPORT

We help our members grow and thrive by fostering a dynamic network for knowledge sharing and collaboration, strengthening member capacity with funding, business and training opportunities and representing members at local, national and EU level.

PROMOTION

We promote our members' work through events (including our biennial conference), campaigns and digital tools including our website, social media and newsletters

POLICY, RESEARCH

CRNI represents the authority on community reuse, repair and recycling and works with members to inform environmental and social policy. We engage in research with our members to address key barriers to the sector and provide business opportunities.

GET INVOLVED

There are three ways for organisations to get involved in the network.

FULL MEMBERS

This membership category is for social enterprises, community organisations or umbrella groups representing same, or any project funded through the National Waste Prevention Programme, registered in Ireland, that primarily operate in reuse, recycling or waste prevention activities.

Benefits include: full access to our member's page and regular alerts featuring information on funding, training and events; business development opportunities; a voice in CRNI policy development; full access to network meetings and networking events; marketing and promotion; participation in conferences, events and research projects and listing on CRNI's website.

AFFILIATE MEMBERS

Affiliate members include local authorities, small to medium enterprises with < 10 employees and community / voluntary groups registered in Ireland that primarily operate in reuse or waste prevention activities.

Benefits include: full access to our member's page and regular alerts featuring information on funding, training and events; access to a number of network meetings and events; marketing and promotion; participation in conferences, events and research projects and listing on CRNI's website.

SUPPORTERS

CRNI welcomes supporter organisations, including private sector companies with > 10 employees, universities and other networks that support prevention, reuse or repair activities.

Benefits include: access to the CRNI team to help you connect to our member network; regular e-newsletters; free access to at least one CRNI members meeting and networking opportunity per year; free access to CRNI biennial conference; listing on CRNI website as a supporter
